

Letter of Recommendation

Santiago, December 19th 2016

To Johanna Hedva, Director of Initiatives Processing Foundation

Dear Johana,

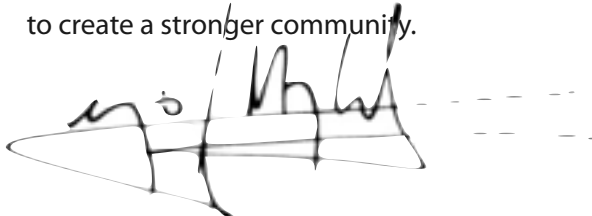

This letter is intended to serve as a recommendation for Nicolás Troncoso in his application for Processing Foundation 2017 Fellowship.

I met Nicolás early in 2015, when in my role of Vice Dean at the School of Design of Universidad del Desarrollo, in Chile, I was looking for a Creative Coding professor. I had been following his work through social media, and his personal website, and was expecting to bring a young yet talented professor onboard to my school.

I was proven right, as he immediately gained the respect and admirations from his undergraduate students, way of his enthusiasm, artistic talent, and close yet clearly organized approach to teaching code as a creative medium.

In his brief experience as an instructor at our school, he has already won institutional recognition from students and faculty peers, and I'm sure he would be a great Processing Fellow, capable of helping the Processing language reach millions of spanish speaking learners, who, as many like him, myself and our past students, had struggle to access quality learning materials in our own language.

I really hope you can get him the support he need in this pursuit. Our school and myself are committed to do our part in this endeavor, opening up our resources so he can reach out to schools across Latinamerica and the spanish speaking world to create a stronger community.
